Răspunsul comunitar la politicile guvernamentale în domeniul delincvenței juvenile
The community answer to the government policy concerning the juvenile delinquency

Abstract:

Far from representing an exhaustive treating of the diverse “under age delinquent universe”, this work primary intends to be an attempt for illustrating the trends of governmental policy in this field and the community answer to this policy.

I chose the town of Beius as a representative example for this case study, in order to reflect the answer policy and the real undertaken measures on the community level. Findings of this enquiry showed that - although on the governmental level there is the required will to solve this phenomenon - on the community level the specific policy is not being taken over and most of the time no real measures are undertaken.
