

Dică, M

Reprezentări ale identității naționale. Propuneri de analiză / Representations of the national identity. Suggestions of analysis

Abstract:

On the basis of a few self-identification and hetero-identification tests and of the social distances' scale (Bogardus) and through the analysis of the linguistic behavior, sociologists try to observe the representations regarding the social identity. This research is made in the Banat region, a region in the west of Romania characterized by the existence of a great number of ethnical and religious communities.