

IDENTITATEA DE SINE – O PERMANENTĂ PROVOCARE PENTRU CONTEMPORANEITATE

Abstract

Individuals tend to preserve their image about themselves. This article proves once more that self-identity is not at all a static process. By contrary, it is a dynamic and reflexive process, involving crises, confusion and constant inquiry. More than ever, it seems that nowadays a topic like this one remains a challenge for each and every individual.

Keywords: self-identity, dynamic and reflexive process, crises
